Headline:
Feeling colder on Sunday with sunny spells and showers.

Today:
Brisk winds, sunny spells and showers, these possibly wintry across highest ground of Derbyshire. Isolated hail possible. Strongest winds near coasts, especially during Sunday morning. Feeling colder than recently. Winds easing inland during the evening. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
A cold night, with showers mostly becoming confined to coastal regions. Longest overnight clear spells likely inland with a possible frost later in the night across more western areas. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Monday:
Monday will be a chilly day and mostly sunny with showers, especially near coasts. Turning dry through the afternoon as showers fade. Winds easing light by evening. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Bright start on Tuesday before turning mostly cloudy, with a chance of light rain by Wednesday. Probably brightening up during Thursday with showers and freshening winds later. Temperatures near normal.
